

SCOTT HADLEY, CPA

MANAGING PARTNER

Scott Hadley has led Bartlett, Pringle & Wolf, LLP's (BPW) Consulting Services Group since 1997. Prior to joining the firm, he served mid-sized organizations to publicly held enterprises in various industries as a senior auditor and consultant with KPMG. Scott also has tremendous experience in private practice, providing him an appreciation for the entrepreneurial spirit as well as the challenges faced by growing businesses. Scott's rare blend of technical knowledge and accounting expertise has led him to specialize in designing accounting systems and business processes.

The Consulting Services Group implements and supports Microsoft Dynamics GP, the leading accounting and ERP solution for mid-sized businesses. Having served a variety of business clients on the Central Coast for many years, the BPW consulting team has become known nationally for their expertise in core financial solutions for financial institutions. Scott is one of the team's Microsoft Certified Professionals, a Certified Master of Dynamics GP and takes an active role in providing superior service to clients.

Scott is a graduate of University of California, Santa Barbara and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Economics with emphases in Accounting and Computer Science. His postgraduate professional education has included software development, database design and certifications in various business and accounting software packages.

With family roots in Santa Barbara County, Scott has lived in Southern California his whole life. He enjoys travel, reading and spending time with his wife and three children in the Santa Ynez Valley, where the family resides.
